

Policing of elections

This page is from APP, the official source of professional practice for policing.

First published 23 October 2013 Updated 8 June 2023

1 min read

The policing of elections provides distinct challenges and associated key considerations, as well as having the potential to attract protest activity.

Forces may require a public order public safety (POPS) command structure and the deployment of trained officers, across a variety of POPS roles, as part of the policing response to elections.

Specific guidance on the policing of elections is contained in the Policing elections APP.

Tags

Public order Public safety