Mentoring – guiding greatness and culture online webinar

Tuesday 25 February 2025, 1pm to 2pm

Mentoring is often misunderstood. People think it is just a conversation. Mentoring is a tool that aids development and performance. It carries a significant impact when done efficiently. This webinar will give:

- an understanding of mentoring
- the impact on workplace culture
- mentoring theories

It explores what makes a good/great mentor and things to consider within your session delivery. It also helps understand the difference between coaching and mentoring. It is filled with insights of how mentoring changed the presenter's own life through different phases.

The webinar is presented by Gemma Watson (the mindful practitioner). It is aimed at all individuals within stages of leadership one to three.
